

Service Schools for 2010!

2010 Service School Schedule

There's plenty of opportunity to attend one of our eight service school classes. Attendees should be either distributor or end user personnel who would benefit from learning about the inner workings of the Vogelsang Pump and RotaCut inline grinder.

The courses will be held in our new Ravenna, Ohio facility, located close to the Cleveland Hopkins International Airport.

Attendees will be responsible for transportation to and from Ravenna, Ohio with Vogelsang, paying for lodging and food during the stay.

Course outlines, workbooks, and all other materials including tools will be provided by Vogelsang during the school. This will be hands on training so dress will be casual work attire.

To register for the school, please complete the enclosed registration form, and e-mail, fax, or mail it back to Cathy Frame, our inside sales assistant. Should plans change after your registration, please inform us as soon as possible, so we can adjust the roster accordingly.

2010 Service School Course

The service school will cover the following topics: Introduction to field start-up, lobe and mechanical seal change, and troubleshooting. Complete power frame rebuild, including sleeve, shaft and bearing replacement. RotaCut cutter screen and blade replacement as well as grinder PM and troubleshooting.

Special points of interest:

- All courses will include the Vogelsang RotaCut, it's operation, start-up, troubleshooting, and wear part replacement
- Each attendee will be tested on the information provided prior to completing the course. Certifications will be issued to those who complete the course successfully.
