There's plenty of opportunity to attend one of our service school classes. Attendees should be either distributor or end user personnel who would benefit from learning about the inner workings of the Vogelsang Pump and RotaCut inline grinder.

The courses will be held in our new Ravenna, Ohio facility, located close to the Cleveland Hopkins International Airport.

Attendees will be responsible for transportation to and from Ravenna, Ohio with Vogelsang, paying for lodging and food during the stay.

Course outlines, workbooks, and all other materials including tools will be provided by Vogelsang during the school. This will be hands on training so dress will be casual work attire.

To register for the school, please complete the enclosed registration form, and e-mail, fax, or mail it back to Tanya Bzdil, our inside sales assistant. Should plans change after your registration, please inform us as soon as possible, so we can adjust the roster accordingly.
